The ASEAN Secretariat informed that ATISA is a comprehensive Trade in Services Agreement, which will replace ASEAN Framework Agreement on Services (AFAS) signed in 1995; ATISA will include AMS commitments in Engineering Services scheduled in AFAS Packages; The MRA in Engineering Services is a separate arrangement and will not be part of ATISA.
33. The Meeting discussed CCS request for ACPECC to deliberate on the issue of expanding the coverage of the MRA on Engineering Services to include Engineering Technologist and Technician for Integrated Engineering Services. The Meeting noted that aside from Lao PDR, Malaysia, Myanmar and Viet Nam, the remaining AMS in the ACPECC are not mandated to represent the Engineering Technologist and Technician for Integrated Engineering Services. As such the Meeting recommended not to expand the scope of the MRA on Engineering Services, but seek the guidance and decision of the CCS with regards to the setting up of a new working group to develop a new MRA on Engineering Technologist and Technician for Integrated Engineering Services.
34. The Meeting noted the highlights on ASEAN Qualifications Reference Framework (AQRF) and discussed the possibility to coordinate with the AQRF Committee on the matters pertaining to engineering qualifications requirements. ## SUMMARY OF THE ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION OF THE COMPETENT AUTHORITIES OF THE FRAMEWORK ARRANGEMENT FOR THE MUTUAL RECOGNITION OF SURVEYING QUALIFICATIONS

11 October 2017, Siem Reap, Cambodia

SUMMARY RECORD

1. The Surveying Roundtable was held on 11 October 2017 in Siem Reap, Cambodia, prior to the ASEAN MRA on Surveying Meeting. The Roundtable was co-chaired by Dr. Wicha Jiwalai as the Chair of the ASEAN MRA on Surveying Group and H.E. Ith Sotha, Understate Secretary, Ministry of Land Management, Urban Planning and Construction of Cambodia. The Roundtable was attended by all ASEAN Member States (AMS) except Indonesia, Myanmar and Viet Nam; and a representative from ASEAN Flag. The Roundtable was opened by H.E. Ith Sotha, and welcomed the delegates.

Surveying Education in Cambodia

2. The Roundtable started with the presentation of Dr. Sanara Hor from the Faculty of Land Management and Land Administration (FLMLA), Royal University of Agriculture, Cambodia. Dr. Sanara Hor gave an overview of the history of FLMLA, and international cooperation. Between 2002 and 2016, there are 552 graduates and noting the growing demand for surveying expertise in view of the development of Cambodia. The undergraduate programme requirement is 147 credits and a Bachelor degree in Land Management and Land Administration is issued upon successful completion of the programme.

The FLMLA comprises three departments: (i) Department of Land Administration and Policy, (ii) Department of Land Management, and (iii) Department of Geomatic Surveying and Mapping. The Department of Geomatic Surveying and Mapping is the core department to provide technological knowledge and expertise to support the activities of the Department of Land Administration and Policy and Department of Land Management. In terms of curriculum, specifically for Department of Geomatic Surveying and Mapping, there are seven courses, of which six are compulsory and one is elective. Dr. Sanara Hor also presented the plans of FLMLA to develop laboratory system linking research, education and job market to enhance the course curriculum.

The presentation of Dr. Sanara Hor on Land Education Program Related to Land Surveying in Cambodia appears as ANNEX 1.

3. The Roundtable discussed the presentation, and noted that Professional Surveying practices are similar across AMS and that ASEAN Educational Template for Surveying can be used as the benchmark, and the credit requirement ranged between 120 and 150. The Roundtable also emphasised the ASEAN MRA on Surveying Group agreed all surveying programme have to include cadastral surveying.

4. Noting the speaker of the second presentation, Dr. Ly Sarann, Dean of Faculty of Hydrology and Water Resources Engineers, Institut de Technologie Du Cambodge was not able to participate, the Roundtable noted the presentation material which appears as ANNEX 2. Institut de Technologie Du Cambodge offers some courses related to surveying (i.e. hydraulic engineering).

Professional Surveying Practice

5. The Roundtable noted that companies providing surveying services in Cambodia are operating with the license from the Ministry of Commerce, and surveyors are currently not regulated in Cambodia. It is noted that Cambodia has issued a sub-decree to develop a system to register and issue licence to qualified Professional Surveyors and that the implementation is in process. It is also noted that currently there is no association for Professional Surveyors in Cambodia, while there are Professional Councils for other professions, such as Architecture, Engineering and Medicine.

Project Proposal on Development of a Legal Framework for Registration and Licensing System for Professional Land Surveyors in Cambodia, Lao PDR, Myanmar and Viet Nam (CLMV)

6. The Roundtable discussed the draft project proposal prepared by Cambodia and Viet Nam. The ASEAN Secretariat briefed the Roundtable on the processes of different possible funding support, and that Initiatives for ASEAN Integration (IAI) Division of the ASEAN Secretariat could facilitate the process to accredit the Project as long as it involves at least two CLMV countries.

In view of the processes involved and duration to implement the project, the Roundtable discussed the possibility to tap on the experience and expertise from AMS with more developed system. ASEAN Flag also expressed interest to provide capacity building support to CLMV. It is noted that AMS could provide comments and input to the project proposal.

Acknowledgement

7. The Roundtable participants thanked Ministry of Land Management, Urban Planning and Construction of Cambodia for hosting the Roundtable, and the invitation to the reception dinner in the evening of 11 October 2017.
